Will Interest Readers of The Times.

Those having the misfortune to suffer from backache, urinary disorders, gravel, dropsical swellings, rheumatic pains, or other kidney and bladder disorders, will read with gratification this encouraging statement by a Barre man.

M. I. Spaulding, painter, 16 Seminary street, Barre, Vt., says: "I still use Doan's Kidney Pills, produced at Doan's drug store, but not very often, as the cure they made has lasted. I gladly confirm my former statement."

The above statement must carry conviction to the mind of every reader. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—ask distinctly for Doan's Kidney Pills, the same that Mr. Spaulding had—the remedy backed by him testimony, 500, all stores, Foster-Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y.

ADDISON COUNTY FAIR PREMIUM LIST.

The premium list of the 60th annual county fair is just off the press, and a careful review of the book would give the impression that this popular exhibition is to have a program that can not fail to delight the thousands of people in the Champlain valley who make the Middlebury fair an annual mecca for sight-seeing and instructive entertainment.

F. L. Dyer, secretary, and the other officers are to be congratulated on the splendid program they have arranged. Advertisements of the attractions will appear in this paper later.

FOUND BOUND AND GAGGED.

Clyde Woodruff, Magazine Canvasser, Had Experience at Rutland.

Rutland, July 29.—Bound and gagged, Clyde Woodruff of Pittsfield, Mass., a canvasser for a magazine, was found in his room at the Holland on Merchants Row at 10:10 o'clock Sunday evening by William Wright and J. B. Dudley, also canvassers. The story of the affair has a number of unexplainable features.

Nothing was stolen. The man says that he has not had any trouble with anyone in Rutland and no person in the hotel heard any disturbance nor saw anyone leaving hurriedly.

The police were called at night on the case and two men who "jumped" a freight out of Rutland late Sunday night were held at their request at Burlington. One partly answers the meagre description given the police by Woodruff and the Boston officers are inclined to associate them with the gagging episode at Burlington early Saturday morning.

Mr. Woodruff is one of five canvassers who occupy two adjoining rooms on the upper floor of the Holland, having been in this city several days. His associates went out at about 9:40 o'clock Sunday evening, leaving Mr. Woodruff asleep in bed. He says that he was awakened by someone stuffing into his mouth a handkerchief which he had had in his night night pocket. The fellow overpowered him most before he was fully awake and tied his hands behind him. According to Mr. Woodruff, his visitor was about 30 years old, tall, and wore a black cap and dark coat. After the gagging process the stranger went through the belongings of all the canvassers, but nothing was missed except a razor, which was later found on the fire escape.

When Mr. Wright and Mr. Dudley returned to the room, Mr. Woodruff lay helpless on the bed. The police were soon summoned and Officers Elworth and Carty responded. They searched the building thoroughly and took to Mr. Woodruff's room four men whom they routed out of other rooms, but the victim did not recognize any of them as his assailant.

ABOUT THE STATE

HAPPENINGS OF INTEREST FROM DIFFERENT SECTIONS

The Rutland Teachers' association is to hold a tag day during carnival week to aid the state teachers' fund. Rutland teachers have already raised $800 for the fund and want to make it $1,000.

When George C. Slayton finished having Saturday noon on his farm in Stowe, the last to leave the field was his 10-year-old daughter, Hazel, who has done all the raking and "raking after" with a one-horse rake on Mr. Slayton's two farms of 165 acres this season.

C. C. Beaupre, for ten years connected with the Sherman band, for the past few years as manager, and for three years director of the choir of St. Mary's cathedral, Burlington, has gone to Pittsburg, Mass., where he has a position as printer, in which capacity he has worked for The Free Press for nine years.

Col. E. Edward Dyer, of Rutland, has announced the appointment of J. S. Brown, of that city, to the office of sergeant trumpeter of the First Vermont regiment. Mr. Brown has been musician with the Rutland company for the past four years, and four years previous he was bugler for company C of Brandon. By virtue of this office Mr. Brown will be personal orderly to the regimental commander. He will do his first work at the annual muster at Fort Ethan Allen which begins the second week in August.

Senator William P. Dillingham has been designated a member of the subcommittee of the District of Columbia to go thoroughly into conditions existing in the district and investigate the best methods of handling the slum areas. This subcommittee, which consists of Senator Smith of Maryland, chairman, and Senators Pomeroy, Hollis, Dillingham, and Jones, includes the men who have interested themselves in the affairs of the district and have been more or less associated with the movement to wipe out the objectionable alley conditions existing at the capital.

L. E. Leighton, a native of Derby, his wife, their son, Charles, and Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Wolcott, all of Victory, Wis., who came from their home by automobile to camp in Vermont, will not patronize a hotel or restaurant during their two month's trip. They have already been on the road for three weeks and will tour for five more, sleeping every night under canvas and getting all their meals by the roadside. The party consists of ten dishes, cooking utensils and a folding camp stove in their motor car. They expect to pass four weeks in this state, camping at several spots on Lake Champlain where Mr. Leighton fished as a boy 30 years ago, and spending a few days at Derby. Mr. Leighton conducts a general store at Victory, Wis.

The fountain presented to the town of Springfield by Charles Sherwin Chase, of Detroit, Mich., was a memorial to his father, Barton Walker Chase, his mother, Sarah Sherwin Chase, and grandfather, Dr. Leonard Chase, has been placed on the site from which the old water tank on Main street square was recently removed. The memorial, which is of Barre granite, will stand 13 feet high. It will cost $2,500 and is being erected by the Harrison Granite Co. of New York City. The Chase family is descended from Aquila Chase, born at Cornwall, Eng., 1618, and settled in Hopkinton, N. H., 1639. He died in 1670, and the donor of the fountain is the last of the famous family.

surprise you get by using this new-plant corn cure. There's nothing to stick to the stocking sock, your corn pains stop. You're saved the bother of applying plasters that make the corn bulge out from the core. You're saved selves that eat into the healthy flesh and "pull"; no more fussing with bandages. You don't have to help by picking and dragging out your corns, or cutting with knives or razors.

"GETS-IT" is a safe, painless, stops pain, never hurts healthy flesh. It is guaranteed. Try it on warts, callouses and bunions, too.

Mr. Barkas was driving along carefully and was on the track before he noticed that the train was near him. He jumped from his wagon in his fright and landed in the middle of the track. His remains were badly mangled.

VERMONT BUSINESS TROUBLES.

Two Burlington Merchants and a Canadian Man File.

Rutland, July 29.—The following bankruptcy schedules have been filed in the office of the clerk of the U. S. District Court of the United States for Vermont.

Ralph Nardini, Burlington, fruit dealer; liabilities, $1,716.08; assets, $345, exempt, $200.

FEW SWISS KNOW PRESIDENT'S NAME

The Office Is So Inconsequential That But Little Attention Is Paid to Incumbent.

So little is the average citizen of Switzerland interested in politics that he frequently fails to remember the name of the president of his country. Dr. Henri Flimory, Geneva, clinical assistant in the University of Geneva, who is traveling in the United States on pleasure and to study the operation of medical schools, could not recall the name of the president of his country.

"You see, we have a change in the presidency every year, and the office of chief executive is of so little importance that one does not put his memory with the name of the incumbent. The constitution of Switzerland provides that the president shall be elected by the executive council, which corresponds to the president's cabinet in this country. No man can be elected to the presidency for two consecutive terms, but occupancy of the presidential office does not disqualify a man for future election. There have been instances where the same man has been elected on three or four occasions, but, of course, a year or more has always intervened."

"Few of my countrymen travel in the United States, for the reason that everything is so high here, I suppose. On an average, I should say that living in the United States is from three to five times higher in the United States than in Switzerland, though the cost of living has advanced in my country, as in all parts of the world. A visit to America must impress the European. Everything is on so large a scale here that the visitor is almost appalled. I like what I have seen of America. I have found the people exceedingly hospitable and accommodating."—Washington Post.

Enjoying Himself.

"Got my family in the country now." "And how do you like country life?" "It ain't half bad. I manage to miss the train out about three nights a week."—Louisville Courier Journal.
